

Burrr-ton Adult Winter Reading Bingo Cheat Sheet!

Find a classic you have never read!

<https://www.penguin.co.uk/articles/2018/100-must-read-classic-books.html>

One list of banned books: (there are others)

<https://bookmarks.reviews/10-controversial-classics-for-banned-books-week/>

Some historical fiction to consider:

<https://www.barnesandnoble.com/blog/50-best-works-revisionist-history-speculative-history-historical-fiction/>

Books in foreign countries:

<https://bookriot.com/around-world-80-books-global-reading-list/>

Books with one word titles:

<https://bookriot.com/must-read-one-word-titles/>

Books adapted to movies:

<https://bookriot.com/100-must-read-books-that-have-been-adapted-for-movies-and-television/>

Some suggestions of the first book in a series:

<https://www.goodreads.com/shelf/show/first-in-series>

Books with romantic plots:

<https://www.npr.org/2015/07/29/426731847/happy-ever-after-100-swoon-worthy-romances>

Books that will make you laugh:

<https://www.npr.org/2019/08/20/752044550/we-did-it-for-the-lols-100-favorite-funny-books>

Books you can share with your kids (grandkids! Or neighbors)

<https://reedsy.com/discovery/blog/best-childrens-books>

Books with non-human characters:

https://www.goodreads.com/list/show/99906.Books_with_Nonhuman_Characters

Longest time on the To-read list:

<https://www.supersummary.com/the-best-best-sellers/>

A list of books that were the author's first novel:

<https://www.bachelorsdegreeonline.com/blog/2010/50-most-famous-impressive-debut-novels-of-all-time/>